Week Of Prayer Program Is Given Monday At The First Methodist Church

INTERESTING AND WORTHWHILE PROGRAM IS GIVEN AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH IN THIS CITY; MRS. GIBSON CALDWELL IS PRESIDENT OF WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church observed the Week of Prayer and Self Denial service Monday, using the worship and program materials planned for the use of local societies of Christian Service throughout the Nation. Every Society of Methodism plans for a period of spiritual refreshment during the Week of Prayer. The morning session was devoted to the Spiritual retreat led by Mrs. Reuben Ray. During the meditation Mrs. Roger Duke played softly the hymn "Take My Life And Let It Be." Then the audience sang "Sweet Hour of Prayer."

The theme for the morning service was "Where the Cross the Crowded Ways." Mrs. Ray described the beauty and fineness of life while some eke out an existence day by day finding little that is satisfying and uplifting or inspiring. The church was challenged to meet and solve these problems. A reading "I Am The Church" was given by Mrs. F. H. Haynes. Mrs. Forest Woods presented "Of Church I Am the Community Center." In presenting the talks on Wesley Community House, Oklahoma City, the following speakers impersonated the writers of various statements of history of the settlement: Mrs. George P. Brown, Mrs. D. F. Houston, Mrs. Julius Purnell, Mrs. Wallace Hughston, Miss Anni Bell Kerr, Mrs. W. E. Sutton, Mrs. Dale M. Thurman, Mrs. Frank Emerson, Mrs. W. K. Penn and Mrs. Roy Roberts.

A love offering was received, a part of which will be used for the community center. Mrs. J .D. Stiff concluded the morning service with a prayer.

At the noon hour a delicious covered dish was served in the dining hall. Rev. Earl J. Patton offered thanks. The afternoon program theme was "Blest Be the Tie That Binds' led by Mrs. Julius Purnell. This worship service stated that it is our privilege to have a vital share in Christian education in our own land and lands South. Indeed every Christian is both a teacher and learner all his life. A poem. "The World Astir" was given by Mrs. Tom Bailey. Responsive Reading, "The Durable Riches of Wisdom, led by Mrs. Purnell. The following topics were then presented: "Wood Junior College," Mrs. Mertie Allen; "Opening Day at Bennet," Mrs. Earl Patton: "Crandon's Need For Another Building," Mrs. D. F. Houston; "What Mrs. Lee Thinks the Board Can Do." Mrs. Reuben Ray; "Progressing With Brazil" Mrs. Roy Caldwell and "To Educate Is To Teach To Live," Mrs. Chas. M. Cooper. Prayer by Mrs. L. A. Sears.

Mrs. Purnell expressed appreciation received from the boys in service for the service the local church extends to them wherever they are. Prayers were offered for them and the conditions of the world peril of today.

The great hymn "Blest Be the Tie that Binds" concluded this effective program on prayer.

Mrs. Gibson Caldwell, President of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, is well pleased with the success of the program.

ALLIED PLANES ATTACK ENEMY ON ALL BATTLEFRONTS; BRITISH MOVE FORWARD IN N. AFRICA

AMERICAN PLANES RAID HONG KONG; RUSSIANS HOLDING THEIR OWN AND COUNTERATTACKING AT STALINGRAD.

BULLETINS.

The Allied cause on the battlefronts of the world presents a better picture with the Allies hammering at axis forces on several fronts. In Egypt the British offensive is continuing, the Russians are staging counterattacks and in the Solomon Islands the situation is improved for the Americans.

◆ ◆ ◆

In the Egypt offensive the British Eighth Army has made more holes in Rommel's forces and a German report says that British tanks are attacking in waves, indicating that the British have cracked the German El Alamein front.

◆ ◆ ◆

The Japanese have launched what may be an offensive on Northeast India bases of the Allies, causing more damage than was at first intimated. American planes were not idle, but raiding Hong Kong, Japanese held base, again.

The Russians,showing surprising strength, counter attacked German forces at Novorossisk and are holding their positions in Stalingrad. The Germans have captured an additional street in the city at great cost of men and equipment. The Soviets are also showing progress North of Stalingrad.

Japanese troops pierced the American defense lines from the South and for a time threatened the Guadalcanal airport, but the attack was repulsed by the American Marines and soldiers. The land, sea and air battle of the Solomon Islands continues. Two Japanese destroyers were sunk off Guadalcanal by the United States dive bombers and a third, which had sunk two small American craft near Tulagi, was damaged by shore batteries and fighter planes.

The British continue to gain in North Africa as the Eighth Army gains in its offensive against Rommel's forces. While a showdown battle has not begun between the Allied and the axis armies, fierce fighting is being engaed in with the Allied forces on the initiative. Some tank engagements were reported. The Allies also command the air in North Africa.

The War Man Power Commission has made known a program designed to hold dairy, livestock and poultry farmers in their work through draft deferment, wage stabilization and an effort to ban their employment in other work.

Operators Of Service Industries, Trades Are Given Instructions

Those Service Tradesmen Who Have Not Yet Filed The List Of Their Ceiling Prices Due Last Month Are Subject To Penalties Of Price Control Law.

Operators of service industries and trades ranging from domestic laundering, cleaning and automobile repair to sevedoring were warned today by Elton Riggs, Chairman of the Collin County War Price and Rationing Board that those service tradesmen who have not yet filed the list of their ceiling prices which was due by September 10 are subject to penalties of the price control law.

"This service price regulation is a war-time measure among many other wartime measures to help put a lid on the cost of living," Mr. Riggs said. "But by this time the necessity for filing these price reports with the local County Board has been given ample publicity in the press and every service tradesman should have no excuse for not complying with the law." These price reports which should have been filed with the Board by September 10 were supposed to list the highest price for any such specified service which the tradesman charged during last March.

"We have a quality of pamphlets available at the Board office, explaining what services are covered and the form in which the reports should be filed," Mr. Riggs explained.

"Where a tradesman comes to us in good faith and reports that he has not filed his report because he did not understand the requirements, the board will be glad to help him with the necessary forms so he may have his report on file in proper order without further delay," Mr. Riggs emphasized.

"However, if we receive complaints from customers of service tradesmen that these service men still do not have available in their establishments the required list of ceiling prices for the inspection of customers, which should have been there since September 1, the Board will be obliged to pass on those complaints to the State Office of Price Administration in Fort Worth for the proper enforcement action.

McKINNEY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1942.

With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right.—Abraham Lincoln.

A thirty-five-mile-an-hour speed limit is being enforced in the seven North Texas Counties under the supervision of Tom E. Huffman, District Engineer for the Texas Highway Department. Mr. Huffman said workmen have completed the job of removing all sixty-mile speed limit signs and have replaced them with new ones to conform to the Federal rule for all highways in Dallas, Collin, Denton, Kaufman, Ellis, Navarro and Rockwall Counties. Officials have said the rule would be enforced as fast as proper signs have been erected, so Mr. Huffman warned motorists in his territory to obey the law or face punishment.

"This country in 1943 will turn out a greater navy than any nation in the world ever possessed," Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox told "Manchester's own" naval aviation unit as it was sworn in. That will be true "both in number and balance of type of ships," Secretary Knox asserted. "Its only equal would be the combined forces of the United States and Great Britain at the start of the war." The class of fifty-two preflight cadets, which the navy secretary addressed yesterday, was chosen from among 200 applicants, and will be trained and kept intact for the duration of the war. It will be the first such squadron in United States naval aviation.

Observers are Jess Bunch, H. A. Lafferty, Frank Allen, Ben Lankford, Tom Murphy, George Perry, Dave Biggerstaff, T. T. Blagg, Sam Hudgins, Bennie Brewer, Thomas H. Wilson, J. E. Conatster, Charles Wright, C. B. Johnson, S. Lee Robinson, C. C. Andrews, Jim Lewis, Whitley Kerr, Charles Peterman and Leo Taylor.

HOW SCRAP METAL HELPS.

Many a man has wondered why scrap is so important in the steel mills; why they don't go ahead with iron ore and make all the steel needed, says Pathfinder. It is true that steel can be made from pig iron alone, which is the result of smelting iron ore, usually containing 50 per cent of iron. But a mixture of scrap, which is steel already, and pig iron, not only shortens the process but saves materials, like coal and limestone, and gives a better product as it is refined in an open-hearth furnace. Without scrap, furnace capacity would have to be increased by one-half, much more ore produced and moved and another half-billion dollar investment needed to get the same amount of steel.

There are 100 open-hearth furnaces to feed at the rate of 100 tons of scrap per day. To keep the mills going 17,000,000 tons are necessary. There is not much over two weeks' supply on hand, and the mills are running 5,000,000 short of capacity. The 20,000 auto graveyards of the country furnish about 20 per cent of the scrap collected. One car yields, on the average, 1,500 pounds of iron and steel; 30 pounds of copper; six pounds of aluminum, and 50 pounds of reclaimable rubber, after valuable parts have been saved for replacements.

"Idle scrap metal is dead," said Gen. Somervell. "It must be made to live, and save lives, on the battlefield."

SPORTSMEN, 'WARE FIRES!

Forest and prairie fires entail long-time consequences to the well-being of Texas wild life, says R. E. Callender, game management specialist of the A. and M. College Extension Service. Fires not only maim and destroy many of the most desirable species of birds and mammals, but also hamper their perpetuation.

Animals and birds are creatures of habit. Their dens are chosen with a view to permanency, and for safety to themselves and their young. When fire sweeps through tall grasses and sanctuaries of trees and ground covers, the creatures which escape are driven to other areas which often, are makeshift and less suited to their safety and maintenance than forme rhabitats. This means that their propagation is curtailed or suspended and the game population declines or ceases to exist. Ground nesting birds, especially quail, suffer most.

Mr. Callender says that precaution against fire is especially desirable this year. An abundant supply of deer and quail, and a fair crop of wild turkey are in prospect for the approaching hunting season. Accordingly, he counsels sportsmen to take every precaution to protect hunting preserves.

"Fires originating from thoughtless acts of hunters can be just as destructive as those set by a saboteur," he observes. "Hold a lighted match until it can be broken between the fingers. This test insures that the fire is out. Cover up, wet down, or stamp out all fires in breaking camp because the wind may scatter fire after the hunters have gone. It is good sportsmanship always to be careful about fires, but it is mandatory during the war emergency."

Fire Prevention Observance Is Successful

Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, today described last week's annual fire prevention observance as having been the most successful ever held in Texas.

The Commissioner said activity reports from various cities and towns reveal an intense interest in fire prevention over the state.

"In some cities," Mr. Hall continued, "outstanding programs were featured during fire prevention week. Credit is due every local organization which assisted in promoting greater interest in fire prevention.

"War presents serious problems, and among them is the need for conserving what we have. We cannot afford to rest on the accomplishments of one week devoted to fire prevention, but we must continue to prevent fires every week in the year."

Men Are Urged To Enlist At Perrin Field

Men of the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma area, who are interested in enlisting in the Army Air Forces under Perrin Field's drive for mechanics and radio men, were given a final warning today to come to Perrin Field immediately before the campaign closes.

The warning came from First Lieutenant T. R. Hubbell, technician procurement officer, who said he expected the drive for ground crew technicians to be closed within a few days.

"This may be the last opportunity men of this section will ever have to enlist for this specialized duty," Lieutenant Hubbell said. "Those who come in now have the double advantage of selecting the Air Corps as the branch of the service in which they will serve, and coming into the Air Forces as ground crew technicians."

Men from 18 to 50 who have ability, either amateur or professional, in mechanics or radio are qualified to apply under the enlistment plan. Many physical defects which formerly disqualified applicants have been waived during the technician campaign.

Hospital Numbers Will Be Published In These Papers

The McKinney Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette in co-operation with the United States Employment Service located at 209 North Kentucky Street, McKinney, Texas, will keep its readers who are interested in obtaining employment on the hospital project and who have already registered with the United States Employment Service informed as to when it will be necessary for them to report back to the Employment Service office for referral to the contractors for work.

If you are seeking work on this job, it is necessary for you to go to the Employment Service and register.

It is also necessary that you have a secial security card before you can be referred to any of the jobs, and we would suggest that if you do not have one you make application at the Post Office at once.

If you are a clerical or office worker, you will be notified by the Employment Service when an opening for your type of work arises.

If you are a construction worker, you will be given a number and an identification book, and it will not be necessary for you to report back to the Employment Service office until time for your number to be called.

Your number will be called on three separate days, as orders are recived from the contractor. The McKinney Courier-Gazette will publish the high number called each day, therefore, when you see that the numbers are getting close to your registration number you should report to the United States Employment Service, as it should not be long before your number will be called and you will then be referred to the contractor.

Shoud your number be lower than the number shown, you still have time to report, as your number will be called again. However, you will not be referred immediately to the contractor, but must wait until your number is called again inasmuch as it is the duty of the United States Employment Service to will all orders from the contractor immediately. Therefore, some one with a higher number may be sent out before you, due to the fact that he was on hand as the numbers were called, and for this reason you can readily see the necessity of your being available when orders are received.

After your number has been called three times and you have failed to answer, your number is void, but you can register again and receive another number.

It is necessary for all persons interested in this work to register with the United States Employment Service regardless of the type of work you do.

The McKinney Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette will publish workers' numbers just as soon as work gets under way. It will not be necessary for you to telephone this office or the United States Employment Service.

Put Your Farm Machinery In Good Condition

Planting and harvesting machinery checked over and put into good shape now will have farmers annoying delay when it's time to begin the Spring's work. Jack McCullough, Collin County Agricultural Agent, says that farmers who fix up their equipment this fall and winter have time on their side. Started at once, the chances of getting needed parts are much greater than later on when, perhaps, there will be more orders for parts that can be filled promptly.

Last year farmers did a good job of putting their machinery into condition. The results of this may be seen in record-breaking production.

At the end of a season farmers know some of the damage their machines have suffered. But a mere check-up is not sufficient. Careful inspection of every part, the condition noted and the need for repair or replacement determined will go a long way in prolonging the life of the machine. It's a good idea to repair machines in the order they are required for field work unless this interferes with a well-organized plan.

In ordering parts give make and model or year of machine or implement, the name or description of the part, and the part number.

For best results, check your machinery without delay and order all needed parts at once.

Sherman Colored Team Wins From Commandos, 25-6

In a well-played game, Sherman High colored team defeated the Commandos, colored team of the McKinney colored high school, 25-to-6, at Newsome Field Friday night. The Sherman reverses fooled the inexperienced McKinney line, especially in the first half, and when the half ended the visitors were leading 19-to-0. However, Coach Weldon Berry of McKinney gave his team some valuable instruction between halves as is indicated by the final score of 25-to-6, McKinney playing Sherman on even terms.

McKinney missed the service of one of its backfield stars, Ruben Johnson, who is ill.

McKinney's score in the second half resulted from a twenty-yard-pass from Douglas to Claud Berry, who ran twenty-five yards for a touchdown. James Cecil Jagours and David Williams played good games for McKinney in the backfield.

Greenlow was the star for Sherman keeping the McKinney team guessing.

Between halves the pep squads from the McKinney and Sherman schools and the Sherman band performed, with the McKinney pep squad forming a double V for victory.

Ideal weather prevailed for the game.

Coach Berry says that his team regrets losing the game, but that they will fight all the harder in the game at Newsome Field Friday night of next week at 8:15 o'clock with the Bonham colored squad.

Back To God And His Word

By J. L. PUMMILL

Amos, 8:11-14. Behold the days come, saith the Lord Jehovah, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the word of Jehovah. And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North even to the East; they shall run to and fro to seek the word of Jehovah, and shall not find it.

And in that day shall the fair virgins and the young men faint for thirst. This prophecy was made about B. C. 785.

God had given Israel a law to govern them, which was the word of God. They had turned their backs on God and his word. In the preceding verses of the same chapter, Amos had told them what would happen to them concerning their feasts and offerings. But now he seems to look forward to some time when there would be a famine of hearing the word of the Lord again.

What was wrong with Israel? The leaders, (teachers) had quit teaching them the word of Jehovah and had begun to teach their own doctrines and commandments. Reason: They could not make as much money teaching the word of God. Mark, 7:9, Jesus, said unto them, Full well do you reject the commandments of God, that you may keep your own traditions. When Jesus came into the world in fulfillment of God's word they rejected him, because he didn't teach them what they wanted to hear.

Are we preachers today teaching just what the Bible says? Or are we trying to please men so we may get more money for our work? Is there not a famine of hearing the word of God today?

There is no famine of the kord of God, but a famine of hearing the word of God. Hosea said, "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge," Hosea, 4:6. Will we as a nation be destroyed for lack of knowledge of God's word? Paul said to Timothy the young man, Study to show thyself approved unto God a workman that needeth not to be ashamed rightly dividing the word of truth.

It is not enough to read the Bible now and then, but we should study to find out what God wants us to do, then do it with our might. Why should we study the word of God and obey it?

John, while in the Spirit realm on the Isle of Patmos, was permitted to see the throne of God and he that sat upon it, as we read in Revelation 20:11, 12. "And I saw the dead, small and great, standing before the throne: and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life; and the dead was judged out of the things which were written inthe books, according to their works."

What were the books that were opened? First, the old Patriachal law given to the Patriarchs: second, The law given by Jehovah through Moses, to the Jews (Which Law was finished when Jesus died on the cross). Then the New Testament Law which was given to all who live since Christ went back to heaven and took his seat on the throne of God.

We will be judged by the word of God. Then let us GET BACK TO GOD AND HIS WORD.

Why not be in the services Sunday to hear the word of God?

J. C. Scalf, Route 2, McKinney, was in the city Wednesday and favored us with his subscription to the Weekly Democrat-Gazette. We appreciate his subscription.

Treating Peach Trees Described By County Agent

County Agricultural Agent Jack McCullough gives the folowing information on treating your trees for peach tree borers:

Now is the time to treat your trees to control the peach borer or base borers. Peach, plum, and cherry trees are always killed by the peach tree borer in an indirect way if the borers are not controlled. The borers attack the tree at the base feeding under the bark and in the cambius layer, which weakens or sometimes kills the tree. Shot hole borers or scale insects attack the tree that has been weakened by the borer and kill it.

If masses of gum exude from around the base of the trunk from 1 foot above to 2 or 3 inches below the surface of the soil with bits of brownish grass or sawdust mixed with the gum, the ree is infested with peach borers and needs a treatment.

The best method for controlling these borers is by using ethylene dichloride emulsion. No preparation before or after treatment is required; it is safer on young trees than other materials, costs less, is easier to apply, and can be used at lower temperatures. After the stock solution of ethylene dischloride has been diluted according to direction on container, 1-8 pint is enough for trees up to 2 years, 1-4 for trees up to 4, and 1-2; pint for trees 4 years and older. Best results will be obtained when ethylene dichloride is used in October and early November.

Pour the solution around the base of the tree and a little should be poured on the tree base. If the soil is hard, it should be loosened with a hoe so that the liquid will not run off. When the borers are working in the tree above the ground, a mound must be built up around the tree because only those borers below the soil surface will be killed when treated.

Paradichlorobenzene may be used at the rate of 1-2 ounce for trees up to two years, 3-4 ounce for trees from 3 to 6 years, and 1 ounce for trees 6 years or older. The best time to use P. D. B. is from October 5 to October 15 in north Texas and from October 15 to October 25 in south Texas.

The P. D. B. is poured in a ring around the tree with the inner part of the ring always 1 to 1 1-2 inch distance from the tree. The width of the ring should be 1-2 to 3-4 inch. The P. D. B. is covered with a few shovels of dirt and left for two weeks and then uncovered.

Certainly, ranges are rationed

Here's why:

Range factories are making War Goods

IT'S a good sign, too, when you think about it. It means this country is bearing down on the war. Think of the guns, tank-plates, and airplane parts that American gas-equipment factories can turn out (some of the range factories had been making 550 ranges per day).

Take good care of the gas range you have. Gas ranges are for sale in the U.S.A. only to those persons who positively need them. (The same applies to Water Heaters).

Spoon Bread

This famous American recipe doesn't sound exciting, but it makes up with a spirited flavor and a high fragrance. Lots of vitamins, too.

1 cup boiling water	2 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups yellow corn meal	1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon salt	2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons butter or margarine	2 egg whites

Pour boiling water over the meal, salt, and butter, stirring constantly. Let stand until cool. Add baking powder, milk, and beaten egg yolks, and blend well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a moderate gas oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. Serve immediately.

McKinney Young Man Enlists At Randolph Field

George Smith, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff S. Smith, 716 Parker Street, McKinney, was one of the 66 mechanics and radio technicians who enlisted at Randolph Field last week, Major Thomas H. Royder, Technician Procurement officer, announced.

Mr. Smith, a graduate of McKinney High School and a student at N. T. A. C. at Arlington for two years, was one of those between 18-to-50 who answered Major General H. R. Harmon's recent appeal for 100,000 mechanically-inclined men who would like to serve their country in a field in which they are experienced. Men with 1-B draft classification are now eligible for this branch of the Service, Major Royder said.

After a brief period of basic military training, Mr. Smith will go to work, along with other men in this class, as an airplane mechanic, an armorer, metal worker, welder, or aircraft radio operator, radio mechanic, or radio technician.

Men interested in this new plan may apply in person, by letter, or telephone to Major Roider, Post Headquarters, Randolph Field; Lieutenant Ralph W. Bergstrom, 390th. School Squadron, Kelly Field; or Captain John M. Flatten, Post Recruiting Office, Brooks Field.

Applicants who communicate by letter should include their full name, address, and complete mechanical experience, Major Royder said.

Campaign For Mechanics Meets With Success

The campaign for civilian mechanics in Louisiana is meeting with success, according to reports from technician procurement officers from the Greenville Basic Flying School who are in charge of the drive.

Recruiting offices will remain open in New Orleans, Shreveport and Baton Rouge until November 1, and men between 18 and 30 should enlist now while they can select one of ten stations in the Gulf Coast area for permanent assignment.

Mrs. Thomas C. Gantt, Route 1, Van Alstyne, is a patient in the McKinney City Hospital.

J. W. Kever, student in the A. & M. College spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Kever, and his brother, Don Ray Kever, in McKinney.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Lieutenant Col. Wilson Will Be Lions Speaker

Lieutenant Colonel Alexander N. Wilson, Quartermaster at Perrin Field, will be speaker at a meeting at the Lions Club Ladies' night program Thursday night at the First Methodist Church in McKinney. Covering the civilian part in the nation's war effort, Colonel Wilson will stress keeping fit: mentally, physically, morally, economically, and religiously. Title of his speech will be "Can it Be?" The program committee will be Dr. C. J. Hicks, Sr., and J. H. Merritt.

The speaker, in civilian life, an Oklahoma school executive, is serving his country for the second time as an officer in the Army of the United States. Originally commissioned as a second lieutenant in the first World War, Colonel Wilson maintained his ties with the army through the years of peach that followed and came back into the army in 1941 when the present war seemed inevitable.

Holder of masters degree from Oklahoma university, Colonel Wilson's education, in military as well as general subjects, is broad. He graduated from the First Officers Training Camp, Fort Logan H. Roots, Arkansas, in 1917; School of Fire, Camp Perry Ohio, 1918; Small Arms School, Fort Benning, Georgia, 1928; Command, Staff and Logistics school, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, 1939; and the Quartermaster School, Randolph Field, Texas, 1942.

He came to Perrin Field from Fort Sill, Oklahoma, in 1941.

Colonel Wilson has three sons, all of whom are in the army. His wife and two daughters live in Stillwater, Oklahoma, where Mrs. Wilson is working on her masters degree at Oklahoma A. & M. College. The older of the daughters, Normalyn, is also in Oklahoma A. and M., while the younger, Mary Lou, is a student in the Stallwater Junior High School.

One of the Colonel's sons, Technocal Sergeant A. N. Wilson, Jr., is already in foreign service, stationed somewhere in England. Corporal Planter M. Wilson, the second son, is an instructor in radio at Madison, Wisconsin, while the third, Warren A. Wilson, is an R. O. T. C. cadet at Stillwater.

Colonel Wilson is a patriot from the ground up. Not content with merely serving in the army, he returns amounting percentage of his pay to the war effort through the purchase of war bonds. Now investing twenty-five per cent of his income in bonds, he already has made definite plans to increase this to 50 per cent next year.

At Perrin Field Colonel Wilson has the responsibility of handling the extensive quartermaster activities at that Army Air Forces post.

Mrs. Maude Powell Passes Away At Home In McKinney

Following an illness of several years, Mrs. Maud Powell passed away at her home, 111 South Church Street, Sunday morning at 4:43 o'clock. She had lived on this site all of her life, being born there April 14, 1856, to W. B. and Minerva Proctor Benge. At the time of her passing she was 86 years 6 months and 11 days old.

Mrs. Powell was a member of one of McKinney's pioneer and most prominent families. In April, 1878 she was married to W. R. (Rip) Powell, who was an outstanding county official in Collin County more than a half century ago, or up to the time of his passing.

Funeral services for Mrs. Powell were held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the family residence conducted by her Pastor, Dr. Clifford S. Weaver, assisted by Dr. R. L. Cowan, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Interment was made beside the grave of her husband in the Pecan Grove Cemetery with the Massie Funeral Home in charge of the arrangements.

Active pallbearers were Roy Roberts, Roy Caldwell, Henry W. Warden, Henry Miller, F. O. Board, Dr. Eugene Hoard, Dr. W. T. Hoard, and Jim McElwain.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Powell was preceded in passing by her three sisters, Mrs. W. B. Quesenberry, Mrs. N. A. Williams and Mrs. W. E. Marshall, the latter two having made their home with her for a number of years before they passed on. She is survived by two nieces, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, who with her husband has been making her home with her aunt in McKinney and tenderly cared for her during the time of her declining health, and Mrs. Bonner White of Okla., City, a nephew Benge Quesenberry of McKinney. Two grandnephews, James P. Anderson of Dallas and Benge Quesenberry, Jr., of McKinney; and two great-great nieces, Margaret Emily and Carol Anderson of Dallas also survive.

Mrs. Powell was a devout member of the First Christian Church of McKinney and until her illness, was faithful in attendance. She took an active part in the social organizations of the church and a leader in all the women's affairs of that church. She was a woman of culture and refinement, a devout sister and a true friend. Her passing has caused a pall of sorrow over the entire city where she was beloved by a host of friends.

Grass Fires Won't Control Stomach Worms

Burning of vegetation on pastures and grazing lands is not a successful method of controlling the ravages of stomach worms in sheep and goats, according to W. R. Nesbit, animal husbandman for the A. and M. College Extension Service. The animals absorb the larvae while grazing, and the first state of the life cycle o fthe pest begins in their stomachs.

Mr. Nisbet quotes Dr. H. Schmidt, chief of the division of veterinary science, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, that "plowing the land or burning the grass cannot be depended upon to control the pests. Burning the vegetation could at most destroy only those larvae which at the time are upon the vegetation."

According to Mr. Nisbet, Dr. Schmidt's studies show that infested animals spread the stomach worm eggs wherever their droppings fall. The infested larvae is migratory, crawling to the tips of the grass blades at night and descending to the base of the grass as daylight advances.

The ascending and descending movement continues for 20 to 30 days, after which the larvae enters the ground where they may remain for a year.

Mr. Nisbet points out that the depth to which the larvae burrows into the soil suggests that they are able to protect themselves against the most unfavorable conditions. In view of the known habits of the pest, burning the grass as a means of control not only is likely to fail, but creates a hazard for woodlands, wildlife and grazing areas so necessary to meeting wartime production quotas, Mr. Nisbet observes.

McKinney Couple Are Students At Commerce School

Among the 1,000 students enrolled at East Texas State Teachers College at Commerce for the fall semester are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carl Johnson of McKinney.

East Texas State has reorganized its curriculum to meet the demands of a war time educational program. In addition to new courses which have been added to meet the requirements of the various armed service classes, revisions have been made to cope with other problems brought about by the national crisis.

Private A. H. Eubanks, Jr., of Perrin Field, spent Sunday with his wife in McKinney.

War Ration Stamp No. 9 Good For 3 Pounds Sugar

Householders were advised today by Elton Riggs, Chairman of the Collin County War Price and Rationing Board that War Ration Stamp No. 9 will be food for the purchase of three pounds of sugar for home use between November 1 and December 15. Stamp No. 8, which calls for five pounds, ends at midnight, October 31.

At the same time Mr. Riggs announced allotments for industrial and institutional users of sugar for November and December.

Institutional users including hotels, restaurants and similar institutions will be allowed 60 per cent of the sugar base established by them. An allotment of 85 percent has been set for hospitals treating patients suffering from acute illness and residing temporarily in a hospital.

Industrial users of sugar will receive 70 per cent of the sugar base established by them, during the November-December period. The ration period for industrial and institutional users begins on November 1st, but the Collin County Board began receiving applications for these allotments on October 15th and will continue to receive such applications until November 5.

The allotment of 70 percent for industrial sugar users for November and December is the same as the allotment for September-October period; however, industrial users were given a bonus of 10 percent during September and October, making a total of 80 percent for that period. In that same period the original allotment of 50 percent for institutional users was increased to 75 percent by a 25 percent bonus.

Mr. Riggs said he had been advised by OPA officials that the present sugar supply situation does not justify the continuance of such bonus increases in the allotments.

J. O. Odle Is Enrolled In Navy School

J. O. Odle, son of Mrs. John Odle, 1010 Sherman Street, McKinney, Texas, is now enrolled in the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School at Athens, Georgia. Mr. Odle, who graduated from high school May 22, 1942, completed CAA Primary Training at A. T. S. T. C., Denton, Texas.

Successful completion of the work here will send Mr. Odle to one of the Navy's primary flight centers, then on to advanced instruction and finally an operational base. The entire pilot training period covers 12 months.

The four new Pre-Flight Schools are the Navy's answer to the need for physically-toughened, conditioned airmen to whip the Axis. In addition to the southern school, located on the University of Georgia campus, others have been established at the University of North Carolina, East; University of Iowa, Mid-West, and St. Mary's College in California, West.

When the Pre-Flight School at Athens reaches its full strength, it will include nearly 1900 cadets, 200 officers and instructors and 125 enlisted personnel.

Fires Damages McKinney Homes Over Week-End

The McKinney Volunteer Fire Department made several calls over the week-end. However, no heavy damage was reported except in one instance. Friday, October 23, they answered a call to the Lane Sandwich Shop on South Tennessee Street, but little damage was done. Saturday three calls were made, ont at 8 o'clock in the morning to the Ed Coffey Garage on North Tennessee Street and another to the Roy Knox residence on Tucker street, both reporting slight damage. About 11 o'clock that morning a call was made to the J. Woot Mallow home where the house and furnishings were almost a total loss. The fire boys did quick work in extinguishing the flames in most of the places, and prevented the flame from the Mallow home from spreading to nearby residences. They are to be commended for this valuable service to our city.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ward Gregory of Route 2, McKinney, Sunday afternoon in the McKinney City Hospital Sunday afternoon at 4:35 o'clock.

E. E. Self called at the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette office Friday and ordered the Weekly sent to his son, Cadet Edward L. Self, whose address is Battalion 10, U. S. Navy, Pre-flight school, St. Mary's College, California.

Mrs. Florence Muse returned Wednesday from Ponder and Justin, Denton County, where she has been visiting relatives. At Ponder she visited her aunt, Mrs. G. M. Robinson and at Justin she visited her cousins, Mrs. W. I. Bishop and Mrs. L. R. Carty. She was accompanied home by her cousin, Miss Mildred Crouch, of Dallas, who had also been visiting with the same relatives.

Keep 'em flying.

Sugar Users Are Cautioned By Chairman

Sugar users were cautioned to the Collin County War Price and Rationing Board, against allowing their sugar purchase certificates to lapse. The individual consumer's sugar stamps are not affected.

Uncertainty of arrivals from the Caribbean areas and restrictions placed on deliveries in recent zoning orders, ocacsionally interfere with deliveries within the period for which certificates are valid originally, Mr. Riggs pointed out.

"These certificates may be protected by having the local War Price and Rationing Board issue new certiificates in exchange for the old, before expiration of the 60-day period for which the original certificates were calid," Mr. Riggs explained. "The new certificates will be good for 60 days from the date of their issuance."

Retailers, wholesalers, and industrial and institutional users, to whom the warning was specifically directed, were reminded that they can also have their certificates subdivided by the local board to have them more nearly meet their requirements. This will enable them to surrender to their suppliers certificates closely approximating the weight of actual deliveries. This reminder was made, Mr. Riggs explained, because some users, and especially industrial and institutional users, are in the habit of turning over all their certificates for a given allotment period to their wholesalers or primary distributors without first having their purchases confirmed.

"In consequence some certificates have expired while the balance of the sugar for which they called was undelivered," Mr. Riggs said. "Such expired certificates cannot be redeemed either by the original holder or the supplier.

"For their own protection, therefore, all such buyers of sugare are advised to surrender to their suppliers only certiificates closely approximating in weight value the amount of each requested delivery, and to secure confirmation of the order before doing so."

Among restrictions made in recent zoning orders is one against deliveries by primary distributors on orders or contracts calling for delivery more than three days after the date of such orders or contracts.

Double-Barreled Drive Being Made By Perrin Field

Making what they called a double-barreled drive for enlistments of McKinney men for the United States Army Air Force, soldiers from Perrin Field, Texas, visited in McKinney Monday with a sound truck and an army jeep.

Carrying out the same circus timing that the Perrin Field aggregation used in a band concert drive for enlistment of mechanics and radio men a few weeks ago, the group who visited here today were traveling on a "tight" schedule. Driving into town, the sound truck went into action along residential streets, an announcer telling of opportunities for men in the Air Forces between martial tunes played over the loud speaking system. In the meantime, Private Frank Starry, riding in the jeep, called on the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette.

Private Starry, describing opportunities of men in the Army Air Forces, said, "Every man between the age of 18 and 50 now has an opportunity to serve in the Army Air Forces by enlisting immediately. This may be the last chance men have to pick this branch of the service as their choice and be assured of landing in it.

"Perrin Field is now conducting two compaigns. One is the drive for mechanics and radio technicians, which is still going on. Men who have had experience, either amateur or professional, as mechanics can qualify; and men who know anything about radios should be able to qualify for work on airplane radio equipment.

"The other campaign is a new one for enlistment of 18 and 19-year-old men. This is the first time since war began that young men have had the opportunity to enlist in the service of their choice. Perrin Field invites interested young men to come to the field at their earliest opportunity and enlist in the Army Air Forces while they can."

Collin Young Man Greets Mrs. Roosevelt

When a member of the country's armed forces, only 22 years of age, has had contact with both President and Mrs. Roosevelt, although only in the service for two months, that is a record of which any soldier could be justly proud.

Private Robert E. Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon E. Kirby of Allen, home on a furlough, has that honor. Stationed at San Diego, California, in the United States Marines, he submitted to an appendicitis operation September 29, and while in the hospital Mrs. Roosevelt visited the hospital where he was a patient.

The wife of the President stopped at his bed on her visit and inquired how he was feeling and asked about his family at home. 'Right away I felt better," Private Kirby said.

Later he had the pleasure of seeing President Roosevelt, in his tour of the country, when he inspected the Marines at that place.

Private Kirby is married and has two children, Carolyn Ann, a baby daughter, born October 9, and a son, Jerry Jerome, 16 months old.

He is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Denison of the Branch Community, McKinney, Route 5, Mr. Denison owning and managing the store there.

Seven Brothers Claim Record In War Plant

Keeping track of their Meuir brothers is a bit of a problem. You see, there are seven of them --all working for Consolidated in the Fort Worth plant.

There's Dave and Delbert and Clifford and Melvin and Walter and Carl and Floyd. The one thing that keeps foremen from tearing their hair over trying to keep them straight is the fact that only two of them work in the same department.

Those are Dave, a leadman in Sheet Metal, and Carl, the youngest of the family, who operates a drill press nearby.

Delbert, the oldest, works in Tool Proofing; Clifford runs a turret lathe in Machine Shop; Melvin operates a drop hammer on the Second shift; Walter is a dispatcher in Fuselage Nose; and Floyd is a mechanic in Yard and Flight.

All seven of the boys were born on a farm in Collin county, near McKinney, where their parents still live. It was a big family. Dave said, but they "managed to keep up with the chores."

The brothers have a pretty good start on this family raising a total of 14 children. Dave has the most—four—and Clifton and Floyd three apiece.

"When we get together for a family reunion it's really something," Dave said.

Although they work in the same plant, they are scattered about its many departments, punch in at different time clocks and seldom see each other.

It's the biggest bunch of brothers on Consolidated's payroll and —Oh, yes, there another Meuir—a sister—who's thinking about maybe making an application for a job at the plant.

YULETIDE MAIL FOR U. S. SOLDIERS IS LOST AT SEA

The Army postal service says that 4,986 sacks of United States mail bound for American armed forces in the British Isles had been lost in the sinking of a United Nations cargo ship.

Much of the shipment was parcel post and represented one of the first parcel shipments of Christmas mail.

The War Department said the lost mail was deposited in the United States during the latter part of September. Mails reaching the New York port of debarkation Army post office later than Oct. 3 were not included in this particular shipment.

The War Department said announcement of the loss should enable persons who mailed Christmast gifts and other classes of mail to Great Britain during the approximate period indicated to be guided accordingly. Previous announcements said gifts for men overseas should be mailed before Nov. 1.

NAVY SAYS VICE ADMIRAL WILLIAM F. HALSEY, JR., IS COMMANDER IN S. PACIFIC

The Navy has said that Vice-Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., has been made commander in chief of the South Pacific area in a shake-up coincident with steadily increasing activity by powerful Japanese forces bent upon recapturing vital Guadalcanal in the Solomons.

The new commander replaces Vice-Admiral Robert Lee Ghormley, 59, who launched the American attack on the Solomons last August 7, and has directed it since.

A few hours after announcement of the shake-up, the Navy disclosed that United States warships had resumed far-ranging raiding opreations in the South Pacific similar to earlier raids which Halsey, himself, had led against the Japanese-held Gilbert, Marshall, Wake and Marcus Islands.

The new raids the communique said, were carried out in the Gilbert and Ellice Islands, 1,000 miles from the beleaguered Solomons, and resulted in the sinking of two small enemy patrol vessels by gunfire. A Japanese destroyer and one merchant ship were damaged.

Safeguarding Of Military Facts Is Important

W. S. Smith, Collin County Red Cross Chairman, has received the following letter from F. A. Winfrey, Manager of the Midwestern Area of the American Red Cross, regarding safeguarding military information:

It has become necessary once again to bring to your attention and to the attention of all of the chapter personnel the importance of safeguarding military information. The War and Navy Departments are concerned over the serious problem which has arisen in certain localities in this country with regard to the centralization of information concerning service men .These departments are asking that collecting the names, branches of service, and addresses of service men in any one place, for however good a cause, be discontinued.

Some community organization, wisning to send gifts to service men in this country and abroad, have organized offices to centralize purchases and distribution. Unfortunately, in these offices has been centralized information which, if it fell into the hands of subversive groups, could reveal military secrets as to the location and numbers of men in one place. The Navy Department has called to the attention of the Chairman of the Red Cross some instances in which Red Cross chapters nave assembled military information and given it out to local community organizations for various purposes. Red Cross Chapters must not participate in giving out information of this kind from their files to local organizations or to city officials for the purpose of mailing absentee ballots.

Chapters shall not assemble lists of service men just for convenience sake. If, for a particular reason, a list is needed, it should be kept only until it has served its purpose and then it should be destroyed. Names and addresses of service men may be maintained in the individual case folders and on index cards along with all other folders and cards. Such a use will prevent ready access to strategic information which any Red Cross chapter may have.

Chapter Home Service workers shall not use in telephone or telegraphic communications:

1. The names of ships.
2. Facts regarding the ship's present whereabouts.
3. Dates or other details which will give the reasons for a particular ship being in port.
4. Information regarding the numbers and movements of troops.

Communications can and must be so worded as to convey the necessary message without revealing any military information.

The policy of the American Red Cross is to conform to the rulings of the War and Navy Departments in these matters. Careless and negligent handling of restricted and confidential information by chapter workers should not be tolerated. Our National security, which is of prime importance to all of us, is at stake.

OSSIE.

OSSIE IS NO MORE. FOR some unexplainable reason, a shot rang out somewhere in the morning air Friday and found its mark.

True to his trust, and the faithful dog that he was, Ossie, using super-dog strength, limped home and to his own back yard before the telling shot had taken its full effect. Ossie wasn't our dog, but no one could have thought more highly or loved a dog more than we loved him. He was a plain dog. There were no strains of high pedigree flowing through his blood, but plain citizen of the canine kingdom that he was, he was faithful and loyal to his friends. He roamed the neighborhood, bothering no one, and wagging his tail when a kind word has spoken to him. He knew when each family in the community had their meals, for one could find him in their back yard waiting for the handout, that he knew must be coming. He kept stray dogs and cats out of the vicinity, as if to say, "Scram, folks hereabouts don't need stray animals wandering about. I'm the guardian around here and I'm telling you to beat it."

Ossie was a smart dog. He would readily sit up on his haunches and await you to speak kindly to him or "shake hands" with him. He would romp and play with the children in the neighborhood, would jump through a hoop and otherwise entertain his friends in that section of the city.

When he was hungry you could almost see the pleading note in his eyes as he would sit up and beg for a bite to eat. He would often go to the neighborhood grocery and sit up in front of the store until a piece of candy or some other choice tidbit was offered him. Remarkable dog that he was, we have often seen him eat pecans as they were picked out of the shell and given to him. If a pecan that was not cracked was thrown at him he would catch it in his mouth, crack it with his teeth and pick out the choice meat inside as much as possible.

Ossie was always a community pet. When just a puppy, his young master, owner of a bicycle, built a space on the rear upon which Ossie would proudly sit as his master rode about the city. And nothing pleased him better than to ride in cars.

We didn't see him after the shot had taken its effect and we are glad we didn't. The fact is, we have known Ossie intimately for many years and know the scene would not have been a pleasant one. When grown men shed a tear over a fallen canine companion and friend, you can be assured of the strong attachment between the two. We are not ashamed to admit that fact.

We don't know why harmless animals must pay such a price for their loyalty and devotion. If Ossie ever harmed an individual we never heard of it. We are sure when that unthinking creature pointed the muzzle of the gun at him, that Ossie must have wagged his tail and a gleam shone in his eye, at his assailant. Who knows but what Ossie didn't "sit up" for his assailant and would have licked his hand if given an opportunity. For after all, why should he doubt or mistrust any individual? He had never harmed anyone. Why should he doubt them?

"Your Home Town" has lost many pets during his lifetime, all of which he loved greatly. But somehow or other, the going on of Ossie bears heavily on us. Those who have pets will understand how we feel. Those who do not understand do not realize what they have missed in life by not having a pet on which to lavish their devotion. There's nothing that gives quite so much pleasure as the response of a pet to a kind word or a stroke of the head. Grown man that we are, we do not hesitate to admit that we have romped and played hundreds of times with Ossie, played hide-and-go-seek with him and otherwise spent many happy hours playing with him. We'll miss Ossie, his eager, longing eyes, his wagging tail, his friendly bark of greeting to us.

Often, at night, driving the family car into the garage, with darkness about, we would hear a friendly half-bark, half-whine and, turning around, find him at our heels ready for a kind word, as much as to say, "Here I am; I'll protect you."

If there is a happy hunting ground for members of the canine world, we know that Ossie is there and we'll wager that there is no ill will or animosity in his canine mind toward any individual, not even toward the person who so ruthlessly shot him down, possibly without notice or warning.

If human beings can receive valuable lessons and be made any better by the friendship of a canine pet, we believe that has happened to us. Ossie, because of his good nature, understanding and friendliness, has given us a different outlook on life. We shall never forget him.

What You Buy With WAR STAMPS

Much of today's aerial warfare is fought at extreme high altitudes and the sub-zero temperature at such heights makes flying gloves a vital part of our airmen's equipment. These gloves cost $1.50 a pair and must be supplied to each air fighter.

Each time you buy $1.50 worth of War Stamps, you are lending your government enough money to purchase a pair of gloves to keep the fingers of one of our fliers warm and flexible on the controls and gun triggers. School boys and girls can't serve actively in the fighting but they can do their share on the home front by purchasing War Stamps regularly. Your Schools At War program will show you how best you may do that.

GET RID OF EXCESS TIRES NOW, ADVICE TO OWNERS AS GASOLINE RATIONING NEARS

State OPA Director Mark McGee, Fort Worth, called on all Texas for co-operation in the mileage rationing program which will start November 22.

"The rubber front is the war front," he said, "and everyone can begin at once a patriotic individual role in the mileage control program to save rubber. There is no need to wait until November 22. Stated bluntly, if our automobile wheels stop rolling because of tire failure, the wheels of our defense plants will stop producing."

Registration for mileage rationing will be conducted November 12, 13 and 14 at local schoolhouses in every section of the state, he said, and the appeal has gone out to county school superintendents, local school boards and school teachers requesting their co-operation in this registration in the same manner in which they handled sugar registration last May.

Mr. McGee urged that everyone who drives his car to and from work should join a car-sharing club immediately, every motorist should have his tires inspected to be sure he is not ruining the tire carcasses beyond the point where they can be recapped and, above all, every driver should stay under thirty-five miles an hour.

"These are volutary steps and every one of us who drives a car can start doing these things right now," he appealed. "In addition, every passenger car owner will need to do specific things to get ready for the mileage rationing plan."

He asked every car owner to do these things:

1. Get rid of excess tires. If you have more than five tires for each passenger car you own, pick out the best five tires for each car, then sell or gives the rest to the government through your local Railway Express agency. If this is not done before you apply for a mileage ration your application will be denied.

2. Note the serial numbers on the five tires you are keeping. You will be required to list these numbers on your aplication for a passenger car mileage ration.

3. Watch your local newspaper for the announcement by your local war price and rationing board, which should have by Nov. 7, supplies of mileage ration application blanks. Your local board will tell you what service stations, tire shops, and garages will have these application forms and will announce that in your local newspapers and on the radio.

4. Fill out the application for a basic "A" ration as well as the tire inspection sheet which will be a part of the application form.

5. On one of the three registration days—Nov. 12, 13 and 14—go to the schoolhouse nearest your home and register. A registrar will receive your application and if you have certified that you have no more than five tires on the car for which you are seeking a ration, the registrar will issue to you a basic "A" book.

6. Keep the tire inspection record which the registrar or the local rationing board will detach from your mileage rationing application. You will need this tire inspection under the rationing plan. This will be your record to prove that you nave had the inspection made and that your tires have been declared in good condition. This record will be one of the requirements for renewal of your mileage ration.

Mr. McGee added that if more than five tires have been listed by the motorist, the board will not issue a ration book. If a motorist fails to declare all of his tires he will be subject to penalties and will be ineligible to purchase gasoline or receive tire rations.

Coffee Rationing Slated To Start On November 28

Coffee will be rationed starting at midnight, November 28, at a rate of one pound every five weeks for each person over 15 years old, the office of price administration announced today.

On the basis of thirty-five to forty cups to the pound, the ration means slightly more than a cup a day per person.

Retail sales will be halted at midnight, Nov. 21, Price Administrator Leon Henderson said, for a week-long freeze during which grocers will stock their shelves for the start of rationing.

The first rationed coffee will be purchased on the last stamp in the sugar ration book, Stamp No. 28. Subsequent rations will be issued by working backwards through the sugar book, using stamps No. 28 to No. 18, in sequence.

The war production board ordered OPA to take control of consumer distribution to assure an equal supply for all, Henderson said, and attributed the emergency action mainly to "excessive buying by consumers." Reports of hoarding, over-buying and runs on dealers' supplies have been reaching Washington from many cities for three weeks.

Lone Star Gas Plan For Reorganization Given Approval

The plan of reorganization for Lone Star Gas System submitted last February has been approved by the Securities and Exchange Commission. This plan provides for reorganization of the system into two companies, the Lone Star Gas Company and the Lone Star Producing Company. When effected, it means that the names Dallas Gas Company, Community Natural Gas Company, Texas Cities Gas Company and Lone Star Gasoline Company will be eliminated, the local distribution companies all to be operated under the name Lone Star Gas Company. The change will take effect on or about December 31.

Lone Star Gas Company will engage primarily in the purchase, transmission and distribution of natural gas in Texas and Oklahoma but it will no longer engage in the drilling of wells or the production of natural gas. This phase of the business will be conducted by the Lone Star Producing Company which will produce natural gas and natural gasoline and from which Lone Star Gas Company will obtain its major supplies of gas for distribution.

Under the plan approved and agreed to by the company, the distribution properties of El Paso and Galveston, Texas and Council Bluffs, Iowa, will be disposed of within a reasonable time.

President D. A. Hulcy explained that the reorganization will effect a number of economies, give a more compact operating organization, and result in two purely Texas companies without corporate connections outside of Texas and Oklahoma. It will be a simplified corporate structure fully dedicated to meeting the exacting requirements of the times.
